

Government's Witness List

1. Andrew Ashton, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives, will testify regarding, but not limited to his research and conclusion that the short-barreled shotgun was not registered to and was not acquired by lawful manufacture, importation or making by or transfer to the defendant.
2. Todd Czebatol, Monroe County Crime Laboratory, will testify concerning the process by which law enforcement retrieves fingerprints from individuals who are arrested and housed at the Monroe County Jail and will offer testimony that the fingerprint cards from the defendant's prior arrests are business records.
3. Barry Couch, Federal Bureau of Investigation, will testify to, but not limited to, his involvement in this investigation.
4. Charles Facticeau, Global Tel-Link, will testify to, but not limited to, his involvement in this investigation.
5. Richard Hoepfl, Monroe County Crime Laboratory, will testify concerning his examination of the firearms and ammunition seized during this investigation.
6. Kathy King, Rochester Police Department, will testify concerning but not limited to her involvement this investigation.
7. Shane Leddon, Rochester Police Department, will testify to, but not limited to, his involvement in this investigation.
8. Michael Preisser, Federal Bureau of Investigation, will testify to, but not limited to, his involvement in this investigation.
9. M. Dixon Robin, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives, will testify regarding, but not limited to his research and conclusion regarding the place of manufacture of the firearm and ammunition in question.
10. Thomas Rodwell, Monroe County Crime Laboratory, will testify to his qualifications as a forensic chemist and will testify regarding his analysis of the controlled substances that were seized in connection with this investigation.
11. Jaime Torres, United States Marshal's Service, will testify regarding retrieving a set of fingerprints from the current arrest.
12. Brian Tucker, Rochester Police Department, will testify to, but not limited to, his involvement in this investigation.

